When the jury filed into the court ros it had a new foreman, A. Payne, the original foreman having sided with the minority and been deposed

The three who held out for competency were Luke Sault, R. C. Baker and Otto Wentz.

Lawyers for the petitioner then submitted to the commission their recommendation as to the manner in which the jury's inquisition should read. Mr Vanderbilt's lawyers objected to the form of it. but Commissioners Taylor and Ketcham agreed that it was properly worded. The finding "That said Edward Ward Vanderbilt is a

The plan of Miss Vanderbilt's counsel The pain of Miss Vandercitts counsel is to take the case before a Supreme Court Justice in trial term next week and have the verdict of the commission and jury sustained. An application will then be made for the appointment of a committee to act as trustee of the estate. Counsel for the petitioner declined to say yesterday whether the committee when

John D. Sturgis of counsel for Mr. Vander-bilt said that the case would be carried to the highest court on appeal. The appeal does not act as a stay, however, and in the event of a reversal by a higher court the property remaining will be turned back to Mr. Vanderbilt.

The entire cost of the lunacy proceeding. with the exception of Mr. Vanderbilt's personal costs, falls on the petitioner, and will be heavy. The commissioners drew $10 each for the sixteen days the hearing lasted, while each of the fifteen jurors got is a day. The cost of the stenographic report alone will amount to nearly $1,000, ns 1.640 pages of testimony were taken. It is said that the trustee of the estate

It is said that the trustee of the estate will probably rule that these costs are to be paid out of the estate. With Mr. Vanderbilt's fees to his lawyers and insanity experts, three of whom attended every session of the hearing, the total cost will probably exceed $10,000, and will eventually all have to be paid by the estate. The total value of the estate is said to be between $60,000 and $70,000.

Mr. Vanderbilt adhered yesterday to his promise to his attorneys not to discuss the case in any way. Mrs. Pepper-Vanderbilt couldn't be found, Mise Vanderbilt said that she still loved her father, and wouldn't have started the proceedings if she hadn't been convinced that he was influenced by his spiritualistic wife. At the Thomas Jefferson headquarters the regular execuive committee, Senator McCarren presiding, fixed the dates for the various conventions, and in the Jackson Building the county committee of the Kings County Democratic party prepared for its fight to put an end to the leadership of McCarren.

These were the dates selected by the executive committee: Assembly district conventions for the election of delegates to the judiciary convention, September 26; county convention, October 3; Assembly conven-tions for the nomination of Assemblymen, October 4; Aldermanic conventions, October 5, and Municipal Court conventions, October 7. Democratic politics boiled and bubbled | HI DSON COUNTY REGULARS TO SUPPORT THE JUSTICE

> Now That Ex-Justice Collins is that of the Race for the Republican Nomination for Governor -Leaders in Conference at

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 12. Since the primary elections in New Jersey on Tuesday a lot of hustling has been done by politicians to line up delegates to the State convention for one or another of the Gubernatorial candidates. Yesterday most of the big State leaders of the Republican party busied themselves in trying to line up the county delegations, and to-day they gathered at the State House to talk over the results. Among those here, besides Gov. Stokes, were United States Senator Frank O. Briggs, chairman of the Republican State committee; Col. Samuel D. Dickinson, leader of the regular forces in Hudson county; Clerk in Chancery Vivian M. Lewis, who heads the Passaic regulars and is himself a candidate tor Governor; Major Carl Lentz, ex-political boss of Essex county; Senator William J. Bradley and David Baird, two of the Camden leaders; Gen. C. Edward Murray of Mercer, Senator Joseph S. Freiinghuysen of Somerset and a number of others.

The general tone of the lalk of these leaders indicated that the stock of Supreme Court Justice J. Franklin Fort had risen considerably, the impression being that the drift of the regular organizations throughout the State is in his direction. Col. Dickinson gave his friends to under-stand that the Hudson regulars are pre-pared to fall into the Fort ranks now that ex-Supreme Court Justice Gilbert Collins ex-supreme Court Justice Gilbert Collins has refused to permit the use of his name. APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT.

Woodruff-Sharkey Squabble Said to Have Inspired a Mission to Oyster Bay.

There was talk among the Republican politicians in Brooklyn yesterday that an appeal had been made to President Roosevelt to have a halt called in the fight which is being made against the leadership of ex-Naval Officer Robert A. The story is that the friends of Sharkey recently went Oyster Bay and directly accused Timothy Woodruff, chairman of the State committee, of giving substantial aid to the political foes of Sharkey and urged the President to have the factional rumpus

While the President is represented as having disapproved of party discord on the eve of a national campaign, he refused to interfere in the local squabble. Sharkey's friends are very bitter toward Mr Woodruff and Idenounce his manage-ment openly at all their gatherings.
